Plan on attending the Vasculitis 2019:
The 19th International
Vasculitis and ANCA Workshop

The Workshop is the premier academic meeting in the field of vasculitis. Investigators from around the world share data and discuss approaches to clinical, translational, and basic science research in all forms of vasculitis. There are also sessions focused on state-of-the-art clinical care. The Workshop is designed to address the interests of experienced clinicians and investigators, as well as those new to the field.
